India's climate action plan for 2035 before year-end

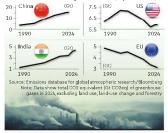

PRATIPACHARYA Belém (Brazil), No

ENDING THE SUSPENSE over India's next set of climate action plan, called Nationally Deterplan, called Nationally Deter-mined Contributions or NDCs in climate jargon, Environment Minister Bhupender Yadav sald the country's NDCs for 2035 will be finalised and released before the year-end deadline. Yadavwas making a national statement at the ongoing COP30 climate conference here. He said India had already

He said India had already achieved the targets it had set in its previous NDCs well ahead of schedule, setting an example for developed countries to follow. Yadav said along with its 2035 NDCs, India would also release its first Biennial Transparency Report (BTR), as mandated under the Paris Agreement. PffRsar part of reporting mechanisministituted under the Paris Agreement, though which mechanisminstituted under the Paris Agreement, though which countries are supposed to peri-odically provide information about their greenhouse gas emissions inventory, the progress being made on their NDC targets, adaptation and other climate actions being undertaken, climate finance provided or received, other rele-vant issues like technology transfer and capacity building. transfer and capacity building
